Advanced Lean Enterprise

Are you satisfied with your lean implementation progress?

Typical Qualifications:

Highly experienced practitioners of continuous improvement in local manufacturing firms.

Manufacturing peers turn to them for advice, mentoring and leadership. Consequently, they often are asked to share their wealth of experience.

Their companies have “successfully” incorporated continuous improvements for several years.

They confront issues around sustainment, higher levels of benchmarking, and strengthening a lean culture throughout the company.

Purpose: To challenge a group of advanced practitioners of continuous improvement in progressive manufacturing companies through involvement in the Leaders Alliance.

Membership Benefits:

- Benchmarking tours* and best-practice presentations
- Share advanced lean tools, best practices and resources
- Learn methods to apply lean tools in challenging settings
- Discuss standards and issues that benefit their peers
- Access to Leaders Alliance Online Forum
- Includes Manufacturers Alliance company membership

* May benchmark outside the metro and non-manufacturers.

 Books, templates, consultants, trainers, websites and assessments.

 Leadership skill-building training and frank discussions.
