Overcoming Resistance to Change

Learn implementation best practices from successful lean transformations

Offered by the Manufacturers Alliance as part of its Lean Leader Certification

You know the basic continuous improvement tools. But, how do you use them to effectively transform the company? You need to know how to start, how much to tackle at once, who you need to involve, what results to expect, and what kind of resistance you will encounter.

Topics will include:
- Change leadership best practices
- Realistic implementation strategies
- Execution planning
- Education and communication plans
- Overcoming resistance and biases
