Leading People through Transitions

Your instructor:

Lynn Moline is a facilitator, consultant, trainer, and motivational speaker who helps organizations improve their strategic positions through effective leadership, problem solving, decision making, and planning.

Today's most successful companies are those that can change quickly. Yet, overcoming people's natural resistance to change is challenging. If your job or assignment involves getting people to accept and move ahead with something new and different, this workshop is for you.

Topics will include:

- What's behind typical human responses to change and how to handle those not-so-apparent factors?
- The surprising but most effective ways to guide people through transitions and help them return successfully to productive, committed work.
- A roadmap of steps and activities to guide people through transitions at work.
- Ways to support and encourage movement toward the goals and purpose of change at work.
